REFUGE ANNOUNCES SPRING CLEAN-UP/GREEN-UP DAY

Kenai National Wildlife Refuge Manager Robin West announced the Refuge will conduct their annual Spring Clean-Up/Green-Up Day on Friday, May 9th, 2008. Refuge employees will be working together with local volunteers to spruce up the refuge in preparation for another busy summer season. In order to keep the Kenai National Wildlife Refuge clean, and to promote community ownership, we hope to encourage our friends and neighbors who call the refuge "home" to join us.

Refuge staff will meet at the Ski Hill Road Visitor Center at 8 a.m. divide into groups and head to the field. Plans are to prioritize the popular public use areas. A good showing of community volunteers will allow us to do the job right by cleaning roadsides, trailheads and less frequently visited facilities.

Mark your calendar for May 9th and come join us to help Clean-Up and Green-Up the Kenai National Wildlife Refuge. Please call the refuge office at 262-7021 if you have any questions or to let us know you plan on lending a hand.
