SUBJECT: APPLICATIONS FOR VISITOR SERVICES AVAILABLE

Applications for conducting commercial visitor services on Kenai National Wildlife Refuge are now available from Refuge Headquarters. A special use permit is required for conducting any commercial visitor services on Refuge lands and waters including portions of the Kenai River within Refuge boundaries. Certain areas and commercial visitor services within the Refuge have a limited number of permits that are awarded by competitive selection. Applications will be accepted for the 2010-11 permit year until April 1, 2010. The permit year begins May 1, 2010 and runs until April 30, 2011. Multi-year permits with an expiration year later than 2010 need only update relevant permit requirements. Multi-year permit holders should be certain that all required licenses, employee lists, boats and vehicle registrations, and insurance are current. In order to have a valid permit, multi-year permit holders must update relevant information before seasonal activities begin or by June 1, 2010. Application packets and additional information are available by contacting Refuge headquarters at 262-7021 or writing Kenai National Wildlife Refuge, P.O. Box 2139, Soldotna, Alaska, 99669.
